THEATRES

Final Showing Today at the Alhambra of "Ladies Must Live"

The final showings of George Loane Tucker's screen masterpiece, "Ladies Must Live," which has made a pronounced hit at the Alhambra theatre this week, will take place today. Betty Compton is the featured player. The picture has been produced along artistic lines and is a most thrilling moment in the action. The support is excellent. The theatre will close at 6 p. m. today. Pictures will not be shown this evening.

Marjorie Daw in "Fifty Candles" at Alhambra Tomorrow

Probably the deepest interest of most moviegoers in the feminine appeal of a picture.

If the men are handsome, they attract the eye. If a character player is realistic in his work he is branded as a real artist and is admired for his ability to inject his realism in his portrayal, but with these and the greatest variety of strongly unspiced parts, no picture has the appeal which does not carry far beyond the eyes and on to the heart.

Perhaps the most winsome of screen ingenues of the day is little Miss Marjorie Daw, who is lending her talents to Irving W. Willis' "Fifty Candles," which comes to the Alhambra theatre Friday and Saturday.

Miss Daw's ability to demand a laugh or a tear at will to say nothing of her delicate handling of any part assigned her, has certainly endeared her in the memories of all lovers of the screen.

Miss Daw is happy in the enacting of the role of Mary-Will Telfair, a little lady whose heart has carried her to far lands in order that she might marry the boy she believes she loves.

Edward Burns as Ralph Coolidge, a young American Civil Engineer, plays opposite Marjorie Daw.

"The Little Minister," With Fine Cast, at the Utah Theatre Sunday

Great care was taken in selecting the cast for "The Little Minister," which will be shown at the Utah theatre on Sunday. Vitaphone selected Allen Cahoon to play the part of the hero, because of his physical beauty and mental make-up.

Allen Cahoon is the ideal Lady Babbie. She possesses just the grace of witchery which is required for the role. His work in Vitaphone's "Black Beauty" characterizes him as an actor of more than usual merit, and in the role of Gavin, opposite Cahoon, he is sure to win added laurels.

For the part of Gavin Dismart, James Morrison, known to every picture fan, was selected. It would be difficult to procure a young man better suited to the earnest, passionate, clerical in love with the kisser. Physically, Cahoon is perfect. His work in Vitaphone's "Black Beauty" characterizes him as an actor of more than usual merit, and in the role of Gavin, opposite Cahoon, he is sure to win added laurels.

William Russell in "Singing River" Showing at the Ogden Today

William Russell, the popular star, who is a decided favorite here, will be seen at the Ogden theatre today in his latest photoplay of the west, "Singing River."

Russell is said to have in this a fast moving story. He has a couple of big fights to clean up gangs such as infested the west in the old days—gangs that stood at nothing to advance their financial interests or gratify a thirst for revenge.

Yola Vayda, well-known and popular screen player, is Russell's leading woman in "Singing River." She is an excellent foil for the star.

ROAD CONFERENCE IS HELD AT BOISE

J. P. Martin, district engineer of the forest service, returned last night from Boise, Ida., where he went for a conference with the commissioners of public work and highways, relative to the road program for next year on the national forests of Idaho. A tentative program was outlined and considered but no definite plans have been made as yet. District Engineer Martin said.

There were taken up for consideration the following road projects:

Warm River Yellowston project: the Noble-Montana project extending north of Salmon City, Ida., into Montana; the Dubois-Montana project extending north of Dubois, Ida., into Montana and which is part of the main roadway to Butte, Mont.; the Ketchikan-Clayton project extending north of Halley, Ida., and passing over Galena summit through Stanley, Ida., and west of Challis, Ida.; the North Fork Payette project, a portion of the road way between Boise and Payette lake; the north and south highway connecting Weiser and the southern half of Idaho with the northern half and the Lowman-Stanley project which connects the region in the vicinity of Boise with the Sawtooth park region.

FORGERY CASE TO BE HEARD JAN. 7

The case of John M. White, charged with forgery, was continued in the city court today for arraignment until January 7 and his bail was fixed at $1000. He is alleged to have attempted to pass a forged check at the Western Market drawn on the Pingree National bank for $17.84. When his attempt failed he is said to have destroyed the check.

Tom Galias, charged with gambling, failed to appear for trial and his bail of $25 was declared forfeited. The case against Alex Panoz, J. Shekos, J. Columbus, P. Liane and J. Karas, also charged with gambling, were dismissed on motion of Assistant City Attorney Samuel Powell on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

The case of the state against S. H. Nakayama, charged with attempting to pass a fictitious check was dismissed on the grounds of insufficient evidence upon motion of County Attorney David Wilson.

The case of the city against R. A. Aubry, charged with having liquor in his possession, was set for trial on January 18 and a jury was demanded. A plea of not guilty was entered and half fixed at $150.

WEBER TO GET SCHOOL FUNDS

Amount to Be 60 Per Cent of Total Due; Counties Hold Tax Back

Webster county will receive within the next few days about 60 per cent of the amount due from the state district school fund. This percentage would be larger but for the fact that the county treasurers throughout the state have forwarded but 52.2 per cent of the school taxes collected, according to the books of the state auditor.
